The Origin and Evolution

The Nigerian Common Entrance Examination (CEE) originated in the mid-20th century as a standardized testing system designed to select students for admission into secondary schools, particularly federal and state institutions. Over the decades, it has undergone several reforms to include a broader scope of subjects such as General Knowledge, Verbal Reasoning, and sometimes, specific subjects like Mathematics and English Language, reflecting changing educational standards and societal needs.

Transition to Computer-Based Testing

While traditionally paper-based, recent years have seen discussions and pilot programs on computer-based testing (CBT), aiming to modernize the process, reduce examination malpractices, and improve security.
